Men's competition

Boxers compete in three round bouts, each lasting three minutes, with a one minute rest period between the rounds... No boxers are seeded and there is a random draw for all boxers into the preliminary round. The winners of each bout progress through the following phase. The losers of the semifinal bouts will compete for the bronze medal, and the winners will advance to the final bout. The losers in the preliminary round have the opportunity to compete for fifth

There will be six boxers in each category. Only one boxer per weight category per NOC is permitted.

Women's competition

Boxers compete in four round bouts, each lasting two minutes, with a one minute rest period between the rounds. No boxers are seeded and there is a random draw for all boxers into the preliminary round. The winners of each bout progress through the following phase. The losers of the semifinal bouts will compete for the bronze medal, and the winners will advance to the final bout. The losers in the preliminary round have the opportunity to compete for fifth place.

There will be six boxers in each weight category. Only one boxer per weight category per NOC is permitted.

Differences between the AIBA Youth World Championships and the Youth Olympic Games

There are no differences in the format or rules. The AIBA Youth World Championships field contains more competitors due to the different quotas for NOC participation.

Unlike at the Olympic Games where the two semifinalists are awarded bronze medals, there will be a bronze medal bout staged at the Youth Olympic Games.

Changes since the Singapore 2010 Youth Olympic Games

Three women's events have been included in the Boxing programme for the Nanjing 2014 Youth Olympic Games and there are 10 men's weight categories instead of 11.

A new method of calculating the scores has been introduced. This scoring is based on the Judges' individual scores instead of accepted scores. During a bout in live screens, only the running time is displayed, no running score.

Sport Rules and Procedures

Gloves, Bandages, Headguards, Gumshields (teeth protectors)

In order to protect boxers from injuries, the AIBA rules require boxers to wear gloves weighing 10 ounces (284 grammes), a bandage not longer than 4.5 metres and not shorter than 2.5 metres on each hand, gumshields and AIBA approved headguards.

Weigh-In and Medical Examination

The General Weigh-In and Medical Examination takes place in the morning the day before the first day of men's and women's competitions. On each day of competition there is a Weigh-In and Medical Examination of all boxers competing that day.

Judging and Scoring Format

The scoring system will be based on a "Ten Point Must System". The five Judges selected for a bout will each randomly select a position around the ring when they arrive on the field of play. Just before starting each bout, the scoring system will randomly select three out of the five Judges, and only the scores of these three Judges will be counted. At the end of each round, each Judge must determine the winning boxer of that round by awarding a score of ten points and by awarding nine or less points - down to six - to the losing boxer, based on their judgment as to the degree by which the opponent lost the round. Every round must have a declared winner.

In the case the total scores awarded by each Judge, including any deduction, are equal at the end of the bout, Judges must record in the scoring system who in their opinion is the winner of the bout. They will only be requested to do so if:

- One of the two other Judges also awarded equal scores, or
- · The two other Judges appointed different winners, or
- The two other Judges awarded equal scores.

Warnings will be applied in each round and a point will be deducted from each judge's total score.

Possible decisions for the win will be as follows: Win on Points (WP), Technical Knockout (TKO), Technical Knockout - Injury (TKO-I), Knockout (KO), Walkover (WO), Disqualification (DQ), No contest (NC).

Fouls

A boxer who does not obey the instructions of the Referee, acts against the boxing rules, boxes in an unsportsmanlike manner or commits fouls, can at the discretion of the Referee, be cautioned, warned or disqualified.

The most typical types of fouls that are sanctioned are: hitting below the belt, holding, tripping, kicking and butting with foot or knee. The complete list of fouls is available on the AIBA website.

If during the bout a boxer receives three warnings from the Referee, he will be disqualified. A boxer can also be disqualified for unsportsmanlike conduct against his rival or the Referee.

Protests

Protests can be lodged only to challenge the decision of the referee. No protest against Judges' decisions will be accepted.
